CHAT WITH SENATOR MILLER.

Ohio to Be the Battle Ground of the Campaign.

[S. F. Chronicle Sept. 16th.]

Senator John F. Miller arrived in this city on yesterday's overland train. He came by easy journeys from Washington, stopping in New York, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri on the way and becoming perfectly familiar with the political situation in those four great States.

"The Democratic tactics," he said to a Chronicle reporter last evening, "are to concentrate their entire force in Ohio for the October election. If they cannot carry Ohio in October they may as well abandon the fight for President. At present the Republicans have a good prospect of carrying the State. The Democrats gained the last election in Ohio by promising to repeal the Scott law; but, as usual, they failed to keep their pledges, and that is operating against them. The Republicans are turning their attention to Ohio and the campaign is growing more active every day. That is the real battle ground of the Presidential contest. Blaine's great victory in Maine has sent a thrill of encouragement through the whole party. It has especially cheered the Republicans in Ohio.

"The result of the election in Maine," the Senator replied to a question touching that subject, "was a vindication of Blaine. When a man's neighbors vote for him and give him a bigger majority than ever before it declares that the people who know him most intimately have confidence in him."

"Is the feeling for Blaine growing in New York?"

"Very rapidly. In the northern counties and all through the State his popularity is very great. In the city he is growing in the estimation of all classes. Cleveland showed clearly by his vetoes that he is a rank monopolist. His veto of the Five-cent Fare bill costs the workingmen in New York City 60 cents a week. They had been agitated for a long time to have the fare reduced and Cleveland's veto was a serious blow to the interests of the working classes."

"Do the charges against Blaine seem to make any impression on public opinion in the East?"

"The opinion is growing everywhere that those charges were trumped up. The Democrats and Independents started in to make this a personal campaign, but a decided reaction has set in and the tide of feeling is setting in favor of Blaine on these very points which his enemies thought would defeat him. It is generally believed that a few people who have a bitter animosity against Blaine are persecuting him with their violent, vindictive, and malicious charges. They have brought nothing new to light. The old charges trumped up in the heat of a Presidential campaign were answered years ago. The Independents are falling off in numbers every day. Their strength has dwindled to an insignificant force."

"What are the Republican prospects in Indiana?"

"Indiana has grown to be a manufacturing State and the free trade doctrines of Hendricks and the Democracy receive very little approval or indorsement there. I think the State will go Republican."

SILVER'S FRIEND.

The Winnemucca Silver State (Democratic) says:

According to reports from Washington, Senator J. P. Jones, of Nevada, may be appointed Secretary of the Treasury to fill the vacancy created by the death of Secretary Folger. There is, it is said, only one obstacle in the way of the Senator's appointment. He is not in accord with the Republican party on the silver question. He believes in the full remonetization of silver, and putting the millions of standard dollars now stored in the Treasury vaults, in circulation by paying a portion of the public expenses with these coins. This popular financial theory may keep him out of the Cabinet, as the enemies of the silver are powerful in Administration councils. Every Nevadan, whether Democrat or Republican, would rejoice to have Senator Jones, one of the few Republicans who have always fought manfully for the interests of the silver miner, appointed to a place in the Cabinet.

THE ACTUAL AND APPARENT.

In reply to Surveyor General Preble the Enterprise is compelled to complacently swallow some of its reckless assertions concerning State expenses. It says:

Surveyor General Preble pulls up a number of weeds which choke the growth of a proper understanding of the State Controller's report. The system of bookkeeping used by that officer has its ramifications which raise illusions. There are, it appears, apparent expenditures and real expenditures. Mr. Preble, in some respects, makes the distinction entirely clear, and in regard to several we stand corrected, and that, too, in a courteous manner. For instance, it is plain enough that the item of $155,399 under the column of invested funds should not be counted as an expense since the capital represented by that sum remains in a changed form in the State Treasury. The system of State bookkeeping required by law is misleading in causing it to appear as a State expenditure. The same can be said of the item $2,917 84, entitled "withdrawal of special land deposits." If the interests on the State debt, $25,120, and the School Superintendent salary have been counted twice, we can also deduct these from the total expenditures. Deduct also the receipts from the State Prison, $21,941 32, and $14,677 county school money, and the total actual cost of the State Government for 1883 is reduced to $349,875 38, as follows:

Total apparent expenditures, Controller's report		$571,931 83
Deduct—
County school money	$ 14,677 84
Invested funds	155,399 45
Withdr'n land deposits	2,917 84
State Prison receipts	21,941 32
Superintendent's salary, counted twice	2,000 00
Interest Fund, counted twice	25,120 00	$222,056 45
Actual expenditures for 1883		$349,875 38

This does not agree with Mr. Preble's figures. He includes among the apparent expenditures moneys paid for reliefs, deficiencies, redemption of Nevada bonds, support of State University and support of schools, all of which, in our judgment, are palpable, real and tangible expenditures. It matters not whether the money with which they were met proceeded from interest on money derived from the sales of land, from tax on property, from fines, fees, or any other source of State revenue. They are actual, and not nominal, charges, incidental to the responsibility of maintaining the State Government, and if we had no land to sell we should have to resort to some other way of securing the wherewithal to liquidate them.

Mr. Henry Watterson, in his paper, the Louisville Courier-Journal, says: "If the Democrats are not successful in November it will be because the management of the campaign is given over to the men who mismanaged it four years ago, and who, in the last days of that struggle, threw away, by trickery and cowardice, what might have been a most substantial victory. Trickery, as shown in the manner with which they approached and handled the Morey letter, and cowardice in their treatment of the real vital issue of the campaign, the tariff." Mr. Watterson weighs his words before he pens them. The management has been given over to the very class he denounces. Barnum is at the head, as he was in 1880. The conclusion of defeat is inevitable, if Mr. Watterson's prophecy is worth anything, and we think it is.

As a a political straw showing the flow of the Irish to the Republicans it will be noted that of the 193 names of delegates to the San Francisco Republican city and county convention 43 of them are Irish.

Twenty years ago the father of Thompson Campbell, one of our candidates for Presidential Elector, nominated Abraham Lincoln for President of the United States at the Baltimore Convention.

THE STATE GOVERNMENT.

Surveyor General Preble Contributes Some Interesting Facts Concerning the Expenses of Its Maintenance—A Key to the Intricacies of State Accounts—The Net Cost of Sustaining the State Government—Robbing Peter to Pay Paul.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE—Sir: In accordance with my letter of yesterday, I now write you the facts concerning the expenses of the State Government. I want you to understand me correctly in whatever I may say in this letter in regard to these expenses. I do not deny the ground you assume, that the expenses ought to and can be reduced in both State and county governments. My desire is only to set you right in regard to the actual present expenses of the State Government.

You quote from Controller Hallock's report for 1883, and make him say the actual expenses were $571,931 83. At first glance the statement you refer to does seem to say so; but, after examining it carefully in connection with the detailed statement on pages 21 and 22, I find that it is not all expenditures, but that some of it is investments. For instance, the column headed "Invested Funds," shows $155,399 45 expended. It was expended, but it was expended out of the Irreducible School Fund for the purchase of $120,399 45 United States bonds and $35,000 State bonds. This can hardly be called actual expenses—it is only apparent—as these bonds are in the State Treasury in place of the coin; the only difference being that the bonds are drawing interest and the coin was not.

In regard to the column headed "Redemption of State bonds," it cannot properly be called actual expense, as it shows a reduction of the State debt; but the money was merely taken from one fund and transferred to another.

The column headed "Support of Schools," should be stricken out entirely in getting at the expense, as it misleads. The money is disbursed surely, but is no expense as far as the State is concerned, for $14,677 53 is county money, and the balance is obtained from interest on investments of the school money in United States and State bonds. The interest on Nevada bonds must be counted as actual expense, and is so counted in the column headed "Interest on State Debt," and is therefore counted twice. This may appear absurd to you, but this statement on page 42 is a statement of the different funds, and when money is transferred from one fund to another and then paid out to the public, it appears as having been disbursed from the first and disbursed from the second also. For instance, the $25,120 interest was disbursed from the Interest Fund to the State School Fund, but no money had left the Treasury, and then disbursed from the School Fund to the public. This apparent expense (for it is only apparent, and not actual) of $56,754 29 includes $7,103 69 for the support of the University, which sum is also derived from invested funds, and $2,000 as salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which is included in the $37,500 as expense of Executive Department.

The column for "Charitable Purposes" shows $73,248 31 expended. This includes the Insane Asylum, Orphans' Home, deaf and dumb support and a deficiency of $50,764 20 in 1881-2 (see page 17), which is not an expense of 1883.

The "Support of State Prison" shows $70,320 13 expended, but does not show any receipts to offset these expenditures. Take the State Prison account, as shown on page 27, and you will see there was received $21,941 32 from sale of shoes and boots, cut stone, etc., so the actual expenses is $48,222 59 instead of $70,320 13.

The expense of $9,516 57 under the head of "Public Building," was for repairs on the Insane Asylum.

"Miscellaneous Purposes" includes withdrawal of land deposits, amounting to $2,917 84, which is not an expenditure, as the parties withdrew what had previously been deposited on contested land claims. It also includes $5,478 68 of relief bills for Tom, Dick and Harry. (See page 16, under the head of "Reliefs.") The pay of attorney at Washington comes from the proceeds derived from the sale of lands, and in this connection I will state that the whole expense of the Surveyor General's office comes from this same source, and if the office were wiped out entirely it would work no reduction in taxes. (The receipts of the office in 1883 being $80,208 70, is more than enough to run it.)

To get at this properly and obtain a statement of the actual expenses for 1883, we will have to take the list of expenditures as shown on pages 21 and 22 of this report for 1883, which is the detailed account of the statement on page 42. This foots up $571,931 83. To find the actual expense of 1883, the following amounts must be deducted from this sum:

Receipts from State Prison	$21,941 32
Reliefs	5,478 68
Deficiencies of 1881-2	22,250 68
Withdrawal of land deposits	2,917 84
Purchase of United States bonds	120,250 45
Purchase of Nevada bonds	35,000 00
Redemption of Nevada bonds	26,000 00
Support of State University	7,103 69
Support of Schools	47 650 50
	$288,682 26

Deduct this amount from $571,931 83, and we have, as the actual expense for 1883, $282,249 57. A legislative year, of course, is always more expensive than any other year, and this year (1884) will show a much less sum, not exceeding $220,000.

I have attempted to make this as clear as possible, but it may be like

"Explaining metaphysics to the nation,
I wish he would explain his explanation.'

At least, I have no intention of making a misstatement, for in this result I am backed up by the same calculations by the Controller himself.

Understand me again, I have no desire to combat your efforts to reduce expenses, or rather the rate of taxation, for, although I am at present a "tax-eater," I am also a tax-payer, and will give my aid toward a just and proper reduction in the proper place. Knowing you intend no misstatement, and hoping this will give you a proper conception of the extent of the evil to remedy, I am yours, very respectfully,

C. S. PREBLE.

Surveyor General's Office, Carson City, September 12, 1884.

Mrs. Garfield Frightened.

A Cleveland dispatch of the 16th says:

A tall, old man, dressed in black broadcloth, and of distinguished appearance, arrived here, hired a coupe and was driven to the residence of the widow of President Garfield, 968 Prospect street. He inquired of the colored porter at the door for Miss Piper, and when told no such person was there, he walked out, seating himself at the gate and remained there several hours. Mrs. Garfield became frightened and telephoned for a policeman. The man offered no resistance when arrested, and sullenly refused to talk. There was nothing on his person showing his name. He was armed with a new thirty-eight-caliber American revolver. All the chambers were loaded. It is suspected that the man had intentions on the life of Mrs. Garfield.

The item in yesterdays JOURNAL in relation to the sale of the Webber Lake property was an error. It was the Webber ranch in Sierra Valley that was sold. The Webber Lake property will be sold next Monday.

DULL TIMES.

The Financial Depression and Business Outlook in San Francisco

Nevada people who feel the depression in business circles and are continually complaining of dull times, as a rule, know but little of the financial troubles and the stagnation in business elsewhere on this coast Occasionally some one becomes discouraged, strikes out to hunt a better field, and after spending all his means in a fruitless search returns, a sadder and wiser man The following extract from a private letter will give some idea of the business outlook in San Francisco, and may serve as a warning to laborers who seek employment to steer clear of that metropolis The letter was written by a gentleman who knows whereof he speaks In referring to the business outlook of the city he says "Business men are all complaining, and the worst of it is they don't see any immediate prospect of times brightening up any I was talking with a gentleman the other evening and he said that one of the leading wholesale merchants told him not long ago that the reason, or at least the principal reason, for the general stagnation in business here was in losing the wholesale trade of Oregon, Washington Territory and all the northern country, and also Southern California, Arizona, etc The Northern Pacific Railroad now supplies all the northern country with freight just as cheap, if not cheaper, than it can be landed in San Francisco, and the merchants save the commission of the wholesale houses here, which is a big item Portland is now doing a large wholesale business, which formerly was done here It is the same way with the Southern Pacific Railroad through Arizona, New Mexico and the southern country Los Angeles is now doing a large wholesale business and is building up fast All this trade is lost to this city for good, and it is liable to take a long time to overcome its effect on all branches of business In consequence of losing this trade almost entirely it has left almost every branch of business overdone I was talking with one of the principal wood-engravers on Clay street Saturday, and he told me that he never saw times so dull on Clay street among the printing offices At one time he never used to have less than $500 or $1,000 worth of work in his shop while now he has only from $5 to $30 worth ahead — just about enough work to keep himself busy In the same building where he is one of the leading cloak houses of the city have their work rooms, and where they formerly employed from 30 to 40 girls constantly, he says there are none working now It is the same way in almost every branch of business, and of course it throws hundreds of people out of employment The working people being out of employment effects the retail dealers and all branches of business which depend on the city trade. Hard times is getting to be one of the principal subjects talked of on the streets

"La Belle Russe"

The theater was crowded last night and Effie Ellsler found another warm spot in the hearts of our people in addition to the one she has always had for her impersonation of "Hazel Kirk, in which, in the opinion of this scribe, she is just the sweetest character on the American stage "La Belle Russe" exhibits the versatility of her powers, and she renders it in the highest style of the art Her support is good, and everybody was well pleased with the performance throughout

The Board of Equalization

The Board of Equalization finished the work of examining the assessment roll at a late hour Tuesday evening and adjourned until Monday next when they will meet to hear objections in two cases in which a reduction is asked in the assessed value of property With the two exceptions, which can make but a few hundred dollars difference in the valuation in any event the list of property and valuables remain as fixed by the Assessor

There are some things in this world that cannot be changed by the weather or politics, and one of the things is the invigorating effect and flavor of George Becker's Pacific beer. The Granite saloon is always open and patrons are always welcome *

Increasing Popularity of Blaine in Virginia.

Republican leaders in Virginia assert that Blaine's popularity in that State is being largely increased in the estimation of thinking people, consequent upon the position he has taken in his book of her State debt, that the nation was in duty bound to make recompense for the cession of the great Northwest Territory out of which the States of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and a portion of Illinois were formed, and for which Virginia has never been reimbursed The fact that Mr Blaine strongly advocates such a settlement, and that, if effected, it would enable Virginia to extinguish her existing debt, and also relive West Virginia of the responsibility for her pro rata share, operates, it is claimed, greatly to Blaine's benefit, and will secure him many votes, especially from Democrats who are dissatisfied with Cleveland and unwilling to support Butler The Republicans propose to make this an additional issue in the campaign, and an enthusiastic Virginian observed to your correspondent that if the State debt could be lifted from off its shoulders, the old commonwealth would soon rival Pennsylvania and New York in wealth and prosperity.

The Maine Election

Secretary McPherson of the Republican Congressional Committee, is daily receiving letters from all sections of the country to the effect that the result of the Maine election has been most beneficial to the Republican party In all sections it is reported to have had a wonderful encouraging effect It has not only shown that the people of the country indorse Blaine's private character, but blazes the way in which the resident vote is to be cast McPherson also received a letter from an old Congressional friend in the Northwest, who has lately traveled through the States of Illinois Wisconsin and Minnesota He says that there is no doubt about those States being Republican by good majorities Gen Logan has done noble service in them during his tour The presence and speeches of that "brilliant but erratic statesman, Carl Schurz will do but very little if any harm, says the letter

Irish Leaders for Blaine

No little excitement has been created in political circles by the announcement that Alexander Sullivan, ex-President of the Irish National League, will address an Irish Blaine meeting to be held at the New York Academy of Music this week Egan Finnerty and Sullivan are all solid for Blaine Congessman Finnerty is to come here later in the season to address an Irish American meeting

Blaine hopes every Republican paper in the United States will publish the Mulligan letters in full

THE PLATFORM

OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

OF THE STATE OF NEVADA,

Adopted at the State Convention Held at Virginia City on April 30, 1884.

The Republican party of Nevada in convention assembled reaffirm their devotion to the principles of the great National Republican party, and reiterates its faith in its ability to carry on the General Government in the same spirit of justice, intelligence and progress, respect for human rights and regard for the interests and dignity of labor which have characterized its history for more than a quarter of a century.

Resolved, That the wise, considerate and judicious administration of President Arthur commends itself to the entire confidence and respect of the American people.

Resolved, That the Republican party has at all times been, and still is, the friend and protector of labor, and as such considers the advent of the Chinese race into this country dangerous and inimical to the deserved success and prosperity of American laborers, and still pledges itself to advocate and favor such a line of policy as will protect and foster the interests of labor, and while the recent law of Congress restricting the immigration of the Chinese has approved itself to the people, we demand that it be supplemented by such further legislation as may not only be necessary to attain the object in view, but also prohibit the wholesale importation of persons on contract of labor from any country.

Resolved, That in view of the increased prosperity of the people at large in a great degree consequent upon the wise and settled policy of the Government, we deem it impolitic at present to attempt any change in the revenue and tariff laws now in force.

Resolved, That the reduction in duties on imported wools, made by the Act of Congress in March, 1883, resulted in paralyzing the business of wool growing in the United States and in transferring the same to foreign nations, and we demand the restoration of the wool tariff of 1867 at the earliest possible moment.

Resolved, That gold and silver have co-existed and formed the monetary circulation of the world since the origin of human society, that the agitation against silver threatening to destroy its value and use as money is a blunder and a crime, which can only result in a destruction of values without any compensation, doubling the purchasing power of gold for the exclusive benefit of the interest bearing capital of the country at the expense of bread winners, diminishing their wages and injuring the producing and taxpaying classes. We declare that silver being a product of our labor and capital as well as gold, its demonetization is unnecessary, unwise, unjust, and pernicious, and that the present law ordaining the coinage of silver as a full legal tender should be left undisturbed.

Resolved, That we demand of Congress the exercise of all its constitutional power for the speedy suppression of polygamy in the Territory of Utah.

Resolved, That we demand that every citizen shall be protected in his constitutional right to cast a free ballot and have it honestly counted.

Resolved, That we approve of all legislation which tends to promote fidelity and efficiency in the civil service of the country.

Resolved, That we renew our demand for the establishment by the General Government of a postal telegraph service.

Resolved, That the great act by the Republican party of the emancipation of the people of African descent, a people held for a century in the bondage of slavery and ignorance, has imposed a solemn obligation upon the National Government to aid in the cost of educating the freedmen and their children so that they shall become fit to discharge the duties of American citizenship.

Resolved, That monopolies oppressing the people, or unfairly discriminating against them, are wrong in principle and should not be tolerated. To that end we regard with favor the proposed enactment of a law by Congress establishing a National Railroad Commission to investigate the oppressions of railroad corporations, or other legislative action having for its object the relief of the people.

Resolved, That the public domain is the heritage of the American people, and we are in favor of the enactment of such laws as will forbid the alienation of the soil by foreign corporations and foreign landlords.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention the success of the Republican party would be assured by the nomination of James G. Blaine for President; yet, without instructing the delegates this day appointed, but imposing full confidence in their integrity and wisdom, we place on record our firm conviction that they will meet the unanimous sentiment of the Republican party of this State if they support the candidature of Mr. Blaine in the National Republican Convention, and we hereby pledge the Republican party of Nevada to support the nominee of that Convention.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration to the genito-urinary organs.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM!

Adopted at the State Convention Held in Carson, September 4th, 1884.

The Republican party of Nevada in convention assembled deems it unnecessary at this time to supplement its platform of principles, adopted at the convention held at Virginia City, April 30, by adding anything further upon questions of national concern. It renews its adherence to the principles embodied in that platform, and to-day, fully confident of the success of the Republican party of the Nation in the coming Presidential election, congratulates the Republican voters of the State upon the selection by the Chicago Convention of their choice for standard bearer, that dauntless and resolute patriot and statesman, James G. Blaine, with General John A. Logan as his associate on the ticket. It adopts as an intelligible creed of political principles the platform of the last Republican National Convention, the triumph of which principles it believes will insure a renewed era of national progress and prosperity. In the political campaign which has to be fought out in the State of Nevada the Republican party believes it can render no higher service to the people than by calling their attention to the imperative necessity which is upon them to demand and secure retrenchment in every department of the State Government. It therefore declares:

First—That the Republican party of Nevada, when it says reform, means it; and that, disgusted with the vague and idle professions by which, year after year, the intelligence of voters has been insulted, their credulity overtaxed, and their long-suffering patience abused, it declares that it is in favor of, and will seek to carry into effect by Legislative enactment the following specific measures of reform and any others that may be developed as salutary:

The reduction of the number of members of the Legislature, and the number of officers and employes of both houses thereof.

Second—It is a well known and universally conceded fact that the existing high rates of State and county taxation now levied and collected are burdensome and oppressive on the people of the State, and thereby tend to discourage immigration and the introduction and investment of capital; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the imperative duty of our next Legislature to devote its early and constant attention to reform legislation that such laws may be passed as will bring about a marked reduction in the present expense of running our State and county governments, and by a reduction of the number of existing judicial districts, consolidation of county governments, State and county offices and reduction of salaries of not less than thirty per cent.

Third—That we are in favor of amending the State Constitution, and pledge the Republican party to that method of constitutional reform, so as to limit the regular sessions of the Legislature to forty instead of sixty days, as at present

Fourth—That in view of the fact that necessary constitutional reform can be accomplished by amendments to the State Constitution as speedily and effectively as by a revision of that instrument by a Constitutional Convention—a doubtful experiment under the most favorable circumstances—we hereby recommend the voters of the State to vote at the next general election against calling a Constitutional Convention.

Resolved, That in the mining, manufacturing, agricultural and grazing interests of this State lie the elements of life and prosperity. We therefore pledge the Republican party of this State to legislation tending to the fostering and advancement of these interests.

Resolved, That we with pride point to the administration of President Arthur as a model for the future conduct of this Republic, and we congratulate the Nation upon the eminently success-ful services rendered by him as President of these United States.

Resolved, That as citizens of the State of Nevada we are proud of the record made by Senator J. P. Jones in the halls of the National Legislature, and as Republicans we congratulate ourselves and our party in having a man at the head of the party in this State whose private life is irreproachable, whose public life is stainless, whose ability is universally recognized, and whose position among the leaders of the Republican party in the Nation and in the Senate of the United States is such as to give any resident of Nevada just cause for pride.

COUNTY PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Washoe county, in Convention assembled, do hereby re-affirm our devotions to the Republican party; and believing the best interests of the country can best be served by the continuance of Republican administration, we do hereby

Resolve, That this Convention adopt and endorse as its declaration of principles for the present campaign, the platforms adopted by the National Republican Convention at Chicago, in June, and the Republican State Convention at Virginia City, April 30, 1884; and be it

Resolved, That our representatives in Congress should use all honorable endeavors to secure an appropriation for the purpose of sinking artesion wells, thereby increasing our acreage of farming and grazing lands throughout the State; and be it
